

Discovery/Asset Inventory

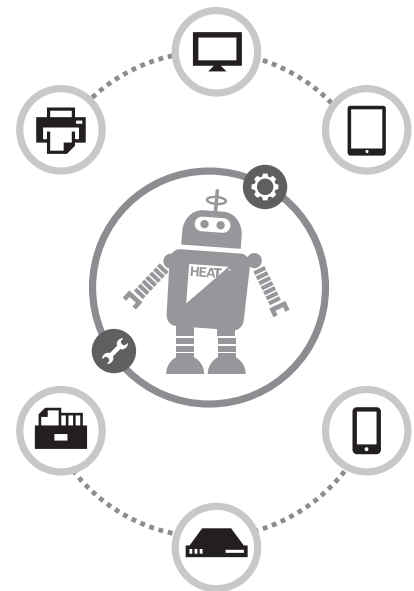

Keep track of every asset

With devices constantly entering and leaving your network, you need a tool that keeps a complete inventory of every asset.

HEAT Software provides an automated asset discovery and inventory management solution for multisite, multiplatform IT environments. Discover and audit every computer, server, printer, and switch across the network.

It's not just the data—it's what you do with it

HEAT LANrev discovers unmanaged computers on your network to facilitate deployment of the agent. LANrev's inventory includes more than 800 Information Items, including user, hardware, software and configuration data. Admins can also create Custom Information items to accommodate reporting requirements specific to their own business.

Policies, filters, and dynamic Smart Groups can be easily built from any of the data, enabling better reporting, and management tasks, such as software deployments, targeted to the right devices and users. .
